1. INTRODUCTION

- 1.1 This Introducing Broker Agreement (hereinafter referred to as the "Agreement") is entered by and between Vantage Global Limited (hereinafter referred to as "Vantage and or Company"), registered in Vanuatu with Registered No. 700271, operating under the tradename "Vantage" and the person who has completed the Application to become an Introducing Partner (hereinafter referred to as "the Introducer"). Vantage and the Introducer shall be sometimes referred to herein as the "Parties".
- 1.2 This Agreement governs the contractual relationship between the Introducer and Vantage, by which the Introducer can, subject to the present terms and conditions, be remunerated for introducing Clients to Vantage (hereinafter referred to as the "Services").
- 1.3 The Introducer shall be solely responsible for obtaining and maintaining all requisite registrations, licenses, approvals, or authorizations required under applicable laws, regulations, or directives to lawfully undertake and provide the Introducer Service or any service as contemplated under this Agreement to Vantage. This includes, where necessary, registration as an introducer or any equivalent capacity permitted by the relevant jurisdiction.
- 1.4 Where the Introducer requires a licence, permission, consent or other authorisation to provide the Introducer Services in any jurisdiction, it must at all times obtain and maintain the relevant licence, permission, consent or authorisation in the applicable jurisdiction to provide the Services.
- 1.5 The Introducer shall not, under any circumstances, (i) provide or purport to provide financial services or investment advice (whether general or personal); (ii) make any representation regarding the merits or suitability of any financial product; (iii) solicit, manage, or accept funds from Clients or prospective Clients on behalf of Vantage; (iv) give the impression that they are authorized to offer trading services or investment advice; (v) rely on disclaimers or disclosures to circumvent these prohibitions; and/or (vi) engage in any conduct that, in substance, constitutes the provision of a regulated activity, regardless of any disclaimers or how such conduct is presented, and nothing in this Agreement shall be construed as authorizing the Introducer to do so. The Introducer must clearly disclose to all prospective Clients that they are acting solely in an independent capacity as an introducer and are not authorized to act as an agent, representative, or advisor of Vantage. The Introducer shall indemnify Vantage for any loss or liability arising out of a breach of this clause.
- 1.6 The Introducer shall at all times act honestly, in good faith, and in the best interests of the Client, exercising a high standard of integrity, diligence, and professional conduct. The Introducer shall not place his or her own interests above those of the Client, and shall avoid any conduct that may result in a conflict of interest or impair the Client's trust. The Introducer shall also ensure full compliance with all applicable laws, regulations, and industry standards in the performance of the Introducer Service.

2. INTERPRETATION OF TERMS

For the purposes of the present Agreement, the following terms shall be interpreted as follows:

"Account" means any trading account opened with any one of the Vantage entities.

means any hypertext links (either a banner or text link) obtained from “My Banners” & “Referral Links” sections available within the Introducer’s Portal that provide further access to Vantage’s webpage used to identify Introducer activities, including Active Clients introduced by the Introducer.

“Operative Agreements”

means the agreements entered into by the Client and anyone of Vantage that govern all trading activity of the Client with Vantage. Operative Agreements consist of the legal documents found on the legal documents page of Vantage and may be amended from time to time.

“Payment Cycle” means the period within which Introducer compensation is accrued and payable.

means promotional, advertising, communication and educational materials that relate to the Vantage, its products and services or relates to the introduction of a Prospective Client or Transaction in an Existing Client’s trading account, and were provided to an Introducer website for the purpose of the present Agreement or made by an Introducer with the prior written consent of the Company. Promotional Materials include, but is not limited to, published written texts, images, SMS, training materials, logos, banners, promo links, trade names, trademarks, including, without limitation any promotional marketing giveaways and/or similar identifying material, audio and video material, computer-based material, web sites, display panels and similar promotions.

“Prospective Client”

means any person, whether an individual or a company who has been or is been referred by the Introducer to the Company.

“Spread” means the difference between Ask and Bid.

“Trading Account”

means the unique personified registration system of all Completed Transactions, Open Positions, Orders and deposit/withdrawal transactions in the Trading Platform.

“Transaction”

means any contract or transaction entered into or executed by the Client or on behalf of the Client arising under the Operative Agreements.

“VFSC” means Vanuatu Financial Services Commission

“Written Notice” has the meaning set out in Clause 9 of this Agreement.

3. COMMENCEMENT

This Agreement commences on the day it is duly executed by both Vantage and the Introducer, and continue in full force and effect unless and until terminated in accordance with its terms.

4. INTRODUCER'S PARTICIPATION CONDITIONS (RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF BOTH PARTIES)

4.1 In order for an Introducer to be considered for participation by Vantage in the Introducer Program, the Introducer must:

- a) complete and submit the online application/questionnaire at <https://partners.vantagemarkets.com> and accept online the present Agreement.
- b) provide proof of identity documentation(s) such as government-issued proof of identity document i.e. passport, national identity card, or driver's license, proof of residential address prior to being accepted as an Introducer and any other document or information required by Vantage. Acceptable proof of address must be a document issued within the last three months by a government authority, financial institution, or utility provider, such as a bank statement, utility bill, or government-issued letter showing the Introducer full name and residential address. If the Introducer is a company or a legal entity, it must provide:
 - i. Copy of Certificate of Incorporation;
 - ii. Certificate of good standing or other proof of registered address of the company;
 - iii. Organization chart revealing the ultimate beneficial owner of the company;
 - iv. Proof of identity and proof of address of directors;
 - v. Proof of identity and proof of address of other authorised representatives in case he/she will deal with Vantage on behalf of the entity;
 - vi. Proof of identity and proof of address of all ultimate beneficial owner/shareholders(25% or more) prior to being accepted as an Introducer; and
 - vii. Any other document or information required by Vantage.

4.2 If the Introducer is a company or a legal entity then the person agreeing to this Agreement on behalf of that company or entity hereby represents and warrants that he or she is authorized and lawfully able to bind that company or entity to this Agreement and the company has the full right, power and authority to enter into and be bound by the terms and conditions of this Agreement and to perform its obligations under this Agreement without the approval or consent of any other third party.

4.3 The Introducer represents and warrants that entering into and performing its obligations under this Agreement does not and will not: (a) conflict with or result in a breach of any other agreement, arrangement, or obligation to which the Introducer is a party or by which the Introducer is bound; (b) violate any applicable law, regulation, or order of any court or governmental authority; or (c) prevent or otherwise prohibit the Introducer from fully performing its obligations under this Agreement.

4.4 The Introducer represents and warrants that, where applicable, it is duly qualified, authorized, or permitted under all relevant laws, regulations, or directives to introduce prospective Clients to Vantage for the purpose of signing up for Vantage's Products and Services. The Introducer further warrants that all activities carried out in connection with such introductions shall comply with all applicable laws, regulations, and directives. The Introducer acknowledges that it is solely responsible for remaining informed of, and adhering to, all such legal and regulatory obligations.

4.5 Vantage has the sole discretion to consider whether to accept or reject the Introducer's application and will notify the Introducer of Vantage acceptance or rejection.

4.6 Once the Introducer's application has been accepted and their details are registered, including but not limited to their contact e-mail address and password, the Introducer will be granted access to the secure Introducer Portal. From this Introducer Portal, the Introducer will be able to access information with regards to the Introducer's performance and commissions.

4.7 The Introducer shall, upon request by Vantage from time to time, promptly provide any documents or information required by Vantage.

4.8 The Introducer shall, upon request by Vantage or its affiliates from time to time, promptly provide true, accurate, and complete information regarding the Introducer and its activities, including but not limited to websites, blogs, social media profiles, marketing channels, and any materials or communications intended for public dissemination in connection with this Agreement. The Introducer acknowledges and agrees that all such materials and communications must be submitted to Vantage for prior review and written approval before being published or used.

- 4.9 The Introducer upon the commencement of this Agreement or as requested from time to time by Vantage must immediately provide to Vantage sufficient proof of ownership of the Introducer's blogs and/or websites and/or social media profiles and/or otherwise.
- 4.10 When requested by Vantage, the Introducer will supply details and evidence of its status, business and compliance with any licensing and/or authorization requirements applicable to the Introducer's activities.
- 4.11 The Introducer acknowledges and agrees that he/she shall not be entitled to receive any compensation, rebate, commission, or fee in connection with his/her own personal trading activity with Vantage, and that any compensation under this Agreement shall apply solely to eligible activity of referred Clients.
- 4.12 All Promotional Material, unless provided by Vantage, must be submitted to Vantage for prior written approval before being used, published, or disseminated in any manner. All Promotional Materials, whether prepared by the Introducer or Vantage, shall become the property of Vantage upon submission by the Introducer, and the Introducer shall not acquire any rights, title, or interest therein. Promotional Materials, including website landing pages and other materials prepared by an Introducer in the performance of this Agreement, must only be used for the purposes set out in this Agreement, only after Vantage has granted written approval, and must contain the Introducer's logo and a disclaimer that states the following:
- "All materials set out herein are prepared by the Introducer. The Introducer is solely liable for the content of any materials it prepares, and Vantage Global Limited and any other entity trading under the "Vantage" trademark, brand, or logo shall bear no responsibility or liability whatsoever for the accuracy, completeness, legality, or content of such materials. Any claims, complaints, or disputes relating to such materials shall be directed solely to the Introducer. Investors and prospective clients are strongly advised to conduct their own independent research and due diligence, and to seek independent professional advice, before relying on any information provided by the Introducer. Vantage Global Limited does not endorse, verify, or accept any responsibility for any representations or statements made by the Introducer."*
- 4.13 The Introducer will provide all necessary website raw data files and access to websites, blogs, social media profiles or any other websites associated with the Introducer upon Vantage's request. This shall include the accounts change history where necessary. Access will be provided within 24 hours of any request.
- 4.14 Any Promotional Material developed or created by Vantage and placed or used by the Introducer is owned by Vantage and, except for the purpose of this Agreement, must not be used by the Introducer solely or in conjunction with any third party, without the prior written consent of the Company. The Company, Vantage can withdraw approval of the Introducer's use of the Introducer's Links. Further, Vantage may require from time to time that an Introducer make changes to the placement of any Promotional Material, and/or demand withdrawal, removal, or deletion of all or part of the Promotion Material:
- a) ensuring the Introducer's website and/or social network have a link directing Prospective Clients to Vantage websites;
 - b) ensuring the Promotional Material can only be provided to Prospective Clients with the prior written approval of Vantage;
 - c) ensuring the placement of the Promotional Material is in an obvious location on Introducer's website and includes the name of the Company along with Services to be provided; or
 - d) ensuring compliance with all applicable laws, regulations, and regulatory requirements in any relevant jurisdiction; or
 - e) any other reason considered necessary by the Company, Vantage.
- 4.15 The Introducer must at all times act in good faith and must not make any false and/or misleading, deceptive, incomplete, or inaccurate statement or representations, including by omission or half-truth, with respect to Vantage and/or Vantage Products and Services. The Introducer shall also refrain from engaging in any conduct or practice that may affect the image, credibility, integrity, or reputation of Vantage.
- 4.16 The Introducer shall not, whether directly or indirectly, through any act or omission, engage in any conduct which may harm or adversely affect Vantage Products and Services. Without limitation, the Introducer agrees that it shall not:
- (a) Use any website, page, platform, or communication channel used in connection with the promotion of Vantage and/or Vantage Products and Services to engage in unlawful activities, or to publish, link to, or make available any content that is defamatory, violent, pornographic, obscene, threatening, discriminatory (including on the basis of race or ethnicity), or otherwise in breach of any applicable law or third-party rights;
 - (b) infringe any intellectual property or proprietary rights of Vantage, or any third party, or publish or communicate any defamatory, harassing, misleading, incomplete, untruthful, or deceitful statements regarding Vantage, or their respective businesses, activities, and products;
 - (c) engage in any fraudulent, unethical, or unlawful activity in connection with the Introducer Program, including downloading, installing, using, or enabling any illegal, unauthorized, or malicious software, or using any method or technology intended to divert, misappropriate, or interfere with commission payments, referrals, or the performance of other Introducer or Vantage's systems; and
 - (d) engage in any other conduct which, in the sole discretion of Vantage, or any entity trading under the "Vantage" trademark, brand, or logo, may damage or adversely affect the reputation, goodwill, regulatory standing, or commercial interests of Vantage or its associated entities.
- 4.17 For the avoidance of doubt, the Introducer shall bear sole responsibility and liability for ensuring that any materials it prepares or uses in connection with this Agreement, including any content incorporating or using third-party intellectual property rights (such as copyrights, trademarks, or other proprietary materials), have been lawfully obtained and are used with all necessary authorisations, licences, and consents. Vantage shall assume that any materials submitted or used by the Introducer have been properly cleared for use, and shall not be held responsible or liable for any unlawful or unauthorised use of third-party intellectual property by the Introducer.

- 4.18 Vantage reserves the right, at its absolute discretion, to terminate this Agreement and/or remove any Client from the Introducer's account for the purposes of calculating Compensation, with immediate effect, if Vantage suspects that the Introducer and/or any referred Client has engaged in fraud, abuse, collusion, manipulation, arbitrage, deceitful or fraudulent trading activity, or any other misconduct or breach of this Agreement or applicable laws, regulations, or directives. In the event that Vantage terminates this Agreement because of a breach this clause, Vantage will not be liable to the Introducer for any commissions resulting from such fraud, breach or abuse detected and/or suspected.
- 4.19 The Introducer acknowledges and agrees that it is strictly prohibited from using any Promotional Materials or other information provided by Vantage to:
- (a) encourage, solicit, request, or otherwise arrange for any Prospective Client or Client of Vantage to transfer funds to the Introducer or any third party, or to provide the Introducer with access to the Client's funds or trading accounts;
 - (b) offer to, or undertake to, trade, manage, or exercise control over any trading accounts on behalf of any Prospective Client or Client, whether on a discretionary or non-discretionary basis;
 - (c) provide, or hold itself out as providing, any investment advice, recommendation, or personal opinion in relation to Vantage Products and Services;
 - (d) arrange or purport to arrange transactions in investments, or otherwise seek to facilitate or intermediate any transaction between Prospective Clients or Clients and Vantage, except in accordance with this Agreement and solely for the purpose of introducing such clients; or
 - (e) engage in any other conduct that may be considered the carrying on of a regulated activity without appropriate authorisation under any applicable laws, regulations, or regulatory requirements in the relevant jurisdiction(s).
- 4.20 The Introducer shall not, by any act or omission, create, assist in the creation or design of, or use, any website, marketing material, communication, or other content in any form that explicitly or implicitly resembles, imitates, or could be perceived as being associated with the official websites, brands, or materials of Vantage, or any affiliated business.
- 4.21 The Introducer shall not, in any manner, hold itself out or represent itself as being a representative, employee, agent, partner, or otherwise authorised representative of Vantage, or any other entity trading under the "Vantage" brand or logo. The Introducer must ensure that all communications and promotional activities clearly indicate that the Introducer is an independent third party of Vantage and its affiliated companies.
- 4.22 The Introducer will promptly inform and/or disclose to Vantage of any development and/or information or acts of a third party that has become known to the Introducer that could potentially harm and/or have a material impact on Vantage and/or Vantage Products & Services and/or their reputation in any way and manner.
- 4.23 The Introducer shall not, without the prior written consent of Vantage, directly or indirectly:
- (a) register, purchase, license, lease, use, or otherwise acquire any domain name, subdomain, social media account, application, page, or profile that includes, incorporates, or is confusingly similar to the name "Vantage" or any other trademarks, brand identifiers, or terms that may be confused with Vantage or its associated entities;
 - (b) use any such terms or brand identifiers in connection with any paid search, keyword advertising, search engine optimization (SEO), meta tags, hashtags, or other online marketing and promotional activities;
 - (c) engage in any other conduct that may mislead or cause confusion as to the Introducer's relationship with Vantage, or their associated brands and businesses.
 - (d) Vantage reserves the right, at any time, to request that the Introducer provide Vantage with direct, read-only access to the Introducer's paid search accounts, including but not limited to accounts on Google Ads, Bing Ads, or any other similar advertising platforms, for the purpose of monitoring keyword usage, advertising activities, and change history. Upon receiving such a request, the Introducer shall provide the requested access within forty-eight (48) hours. In addition, the Introducer shall, upon request, provide Vantage and/or its affiliates with access to all relevant records, data, and, where required, premises relating to the Introducer's marketing activities conducted pursuant to this Agreement, in order to enable monitoring, auditing, or verification of the Introducer's compliance with the terms of this Agreement and applicable laws and regulations.
- 4.24 With effect from the date of this Agreement and during its term, you shall be responsible for introducing to us prospective Clients domiciled in jurisdictions where such activity is permitted under applicable laws and regulations. For the avoidance of doubt, you shall not offer, promote, or provide any services under this Agreement to Clients domiciled in: (i) the United Kingdom; (ii) Australia; (iii) the United States of America; (iv) the Democratic People's Republic of Korea (North Korea); (v) Iran; (vi) Russia; (vii) any other jurisdictions listed in the FAQ section of the Vantage website; and (viii) any jurisdiction in which the marketing, offering, or provision of contracts for difference is restricted or prohibited by applicable laws or regulations (the "Excluded Jurisdictions").
- 4.25 The Introducer and its representatives will comply with applicable laws, regulations or directives in the provision of the Services.
- 4.26 Where the Introducer breaches any provision of this Agreement, Vantage shall have the right, at its sole discretion, to immediately terminate this Agreement without notice and without any obligation to pay compensation of any kind. Vantage also reserves the right to notify any Clients referred by the Introducer of such termination, where it deems appropriate.

- 4.27 Vantage will have the right to request the Introducer to maintain records of an Introducer's activities and any Prospective Clients or Traders they have referred under this Agreement and the Introducer will, at their own cost, provide such records and/or reports to Vantage on a monthly basis or as otherwise agreed between Vantage and the Introducer.

5. MONITORING, ATTESTATIONS AND AUDITING

- 5.1 Vantage will have the right to direct the Introducer to obtain and provide it with a report, prepared by a suitably qualified person as nominated by the Vantage, regarding the Introducer's compliance with this Agreement or any applicable laws, regulations and directives. The costs associated with the preparation of such a report will be borne solely by the Introducer. The terms of any such review or audit must be agreed to by Vantage.
- 5.2 Prior to the payment of any compensation under clause 6, Vantage may require the Introducer to provide Vantage with a signed attestation in the form required by Vantage regarding the Introducer's compliance with the Agreement and any applicable laws, regulations and directives.

6. COMPENSATION

- 6.1 The Introducer's Compensation is calculated and paid subject to the terms in Appendix A, which may be amended from time to time at Vantage's absolute and sole discretion by giving at least 7 Business Days prior Written Notice. The Introducer may terminate this Agreement if they do not agree to the changes in calculating Compensation. Compensation may be paid by Vantage or by any other party designated by Vantage or this purpose. The Introducer acknowledges and agrees that payment by such designated party shall constitute full discharge of Vantage's obligation to make payment under this Agreement.
- 6.2 When requested by the Introducer, Vantage may, at its sole discretion, quote a wider Spread for certain currency pairs for Clients introduced by the Introducer and Vantage will pay to the Introducer the total of the wider spread or part thereof, as set out in Section B of the Appendix to this Agreement when applicable.
- 6.3 When requested, Vantage may charge Clients, introduced by the Introducer, additional commissions or mark-ups and pay these amounts to the Introducer in accordance with clause 6.1 of this Agreement. The Introducer agrees that Vantage will determine, in its sole discretion, the maximum commission or mark-up charge allowable on each Transaction. Vantage reserves the right to alter or amend its schedule of allowable commissions or mark-ups, at any time upon Written Notice to the Introducer.
- 6.4 In addition to amounts payable in accordance with clauses 6.1 and 6.2, Vantage may pay to the Introducer additional compensation as set out in the Appendix to this Agreement regarding the number, volume and value of deposits of the Clients.
- 6.5 Vantage will pay compensation to the Introducer for completed trades in a rebate account, save where Vantage has notified the Introducer otherwise by Written Notice. Vantage reserves the right to alter or amend this clause at any time upon Written Notice to the Introducer. Should the Introducer request for the compensation amount(s) to be withdrawn to a bank account or Moneybookers(Skrill, Neteller, etc.) account, the Introducer acknowledges and agrees that, on request by Vantage, it must provide sufficient evidence to verify that the bank account or destination account is held under the Introducer's name. Vantage will not be liable for any delays if the Introducer has not registered any payments, registered incorrect payment details or failed to provide proof of bank account ownership.
- 6.6 In the event that a Client introduced by the Introducer opens a promotional account and/or qualifies for any bonus or promotional offer provided by Vantage, the standard commission payment shall not apply. Instead, compensation shall be paid to the Introducer at a rate to be determined solely by Vantage. The Introducer may request the applicable revised payment terms by submitting a Written Notice to Vantage.
- 6.7 In the event that the Client previously introduced by the Introducer subsequently becomes an Introducer in their own capacity, the original Introducer shall not be entitled to receive any commission, override, or compensation in relation to any Clients introduced by the former Client. For the avoidance of doubt, Vantage does not permit multi-tiered or sub-introducer compensation structures unless otherwise agreed in writing.
- 6.8 Without prejudice to the foregoing, Vantage has the right to do one or more of the following;
- a) not to pay to the Introducer the compensation under this clause;
 - b) cancel any accrued commission entitlements;
 - c) amend the terms of Appendix A and/or the terms of this Agreement;
 - d) close any Introducer account with immediate effect; and
 - e) terminate the Agreement,
- if Vantage, in its sole discretion, is of the view that:
- f) any of the transactions entered into or executed by the Trader under the Operative Agreements, are being opened and closed just for the benefit of earning compensation for the Introducer (often referred to as "churning");
 - g) the Introducer has engaged in any form of abuse, market abuse or market manipulation;
 - h) the Introducer has acted dishonestly towards a Trader or a Prospective Client;
 - i) the traffic referred by the Introducer constitutes Fraud Traffic;

- j) the Introducer has breached any term of this Agreement;
- k) the Introducer has provided or communicated, directly or indirectly, any trading signals, recommendations, instructions, or directions to a Trader or Prospective Client in relation to trading activities;
- l) the Introducer has cooperated or otherwise engaged with a Trader or Prospective Client, directly or indirectly, for the purpose of securing or generating profits for the Trader or Prospective Client or otherwise participating in the Trader's or Prospective Client's trading activities; or
- m) the Introducer has engaged in or is connected to any suspicious trading activity, or activity which Vantage believes may involve fraud, market abuse, collusion, or other misconduct.

7. INTRODUCER RELATIONSHIPS AND ACTIVITIES

- 7.1 The Introducer will act as a mediator between Vantage and his/her Clients for enhancing the quality of service offered to his/her clients as well as introducing and/or explaining the services offered by Vantage to his/her Clients. For the avoidance of doubt, the Introducer shall not provide any form of investment advice, personal recommendation, or any other service that constitutes a regulated activity under applicable laws and regulations, and shall not hold himself/herself out as a representative, agent, or advisor of Vantage.
- 7.2 The Introducer shall promptly notify Vantage in writing of any actual, potential, or suspected dispute, complaint, regulatory issue, or other matter involving a Client or third party that may affect Vantage's interests or reputation. Failure to promptly report such matters shall result in Vantage being released from any obligation to pay compensation in connection with the affected Client(s), and the Introducer may be held liable for any losses, costs, or damages suffered by Vantage arising from such failure to disclose.
- 7.3 The parties agree that nothing in this Agreement creates a relationship between them of employer/employee, principal/agent, a joint venture or a partnership, and each party shall be solely responsible for its own action or inaction.
- 7.4 In performing the Services under this Agreement, the Introducer is an independent contractor and as such is liable for any taxes, insurance contributions or any other assessments incurred by it in the course of business generally and in relation to this Agreement.
- 7.5 This Agreement supersedes and replaces any prior agreements, arrangements, communications, or understandings of a similar nature between the Introducer and Vantage, whether written or oral, except in respect of any accrued rights, outstanding obligations, or liabilities that arose under such prior agreements before the effective date of this Agreement.
- 7.6 Each Client introduced to Vantage by the Introducer must be eligible to become a client of Vantage in accordance with applicable laws and regulatory requirements, and must successfully complete Vantage's client onboarding procedures, including the submission of all documentation and information required by Vantage for individual or corporate account opening, as applicable.
- 7.7 Vantage reserve the right not to recognize any Client as introduced by the Introducer if the Client does not provide the Introducer identification number during the initial trading account application process or by Written Notice within five Business Days after the trading account has been opened by the Client.
- 7.8 Vantage reserve the right to determine, in their sole discretion whether a Client has been introduced by the Introducer if the Client's registration was not carried out in accordance with clause 7.
- 7.9 Vantage reserves the right not to accept the Client as being introduced by the Introducer and not to pay to the Introducer the compensation for the Completed Transactions made by such Client, if:
 - a) The Client opens a trading account with Vantage more than five Business Days before the Client is introduced by the Introducer, or
 - b) The Client already has a trading account with one of Vantage or any associated entity more than five Business Days before the Client is introduced by the Introducer.
- 7.10 Vantage has the right to reject any potential Client who does not meet the criteria detailed in Vantage' internal compliance procedures and the Introducer hereby agrees that all new account applications must be approved by Vantage in writing before trading is allowed to commence.
- 7.11 Removal/Transfer of Clients:
 - a) Where a Client notifies Vantage of their intention to be removed from, transferred away from, or unlinked from an Introducer, Vantage shall, from the date of such notification, immediately cease all compensation payments to the Introducer in relation to that Client. The Introducer shall have no further rights or entitlements with respect to the unlinked Client. Vantage shall notify the Introducer of the Client's removal via email within 24 working hours. Under no circumstances shall Vantage be liable for any loss, damage, or consequence arising from the removal or reassignment of any Client from one Introducer to another.
 - b) Any indication or suspicion of fraud, abuse, manipulation, or other deceitful or improper conduct in connection with the removal, reassignment, or transfer of Client(s) between Introducers shall entitle Vantage, at its sole and absolute discretion, to take any action it deems appropriate. This includes, without limitation, the cancellation or clawback of any related compensation and/or the immediate termination of this Agreement.

8. LIMITATIONS OF LIABILITY AND INDEMNITY

- 8.1 To the extent permitted at law, Vantage or its affiliates will not be liable to the Introducer with respect to this Agreement in contract, negligence, tort, strict liability, or any other legal or equitable principles for any indirect, incidental, consequential, special, general or exemplary damages (including without limitation, loss of revenue or goodwill, or anticipated profits or lost business). Further, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, in no event will Vantage's cumulative liability to the Introducer arising out of or related to this Agreement, whether based in contract, negligence, strict liability, tort or any other legal or equitable principles, exceed the Compensation payable to the Introducer under this Agreement.

- 8.2 Vantage makes no express or implied representations or warranties regarding Vantage's service and website or the products or services provided therein, any implied warranties of Vantage ability, fitness for a particular purpose, and non-infringement are expressly disclaimed and excluded. In addition, Vantage makes no representation that the operation of Vantage site or the Vantage site shall be uninterrupted or error-free, and we shall not be liable for the consequences of any interruptions or errors.
- 8.3 The Introducer hereby agrees to indemnify and hold harmless Vantage, their subsidiaries and affiliates, directors, officers, employees, agents, shareholders, partners, members, and other owners (collectively, the "Indemnified Parties"), from and against any and all claims, actions, proceedings, demands, liabilities, losses, damages, judgments, settlements, fines, penalties, costs, and expenses (including legal and professional fees) (collectively, "Losses") arising out of or in connection with: (a) any breach by the Introducer of the terms and conditions of this Agreement; (b) any claim that the use by Vantage of any trademarks, trade names, service marks, copyrights, licenses, intellectual property, or other proprietary rights provided by the Introducer infringes the rights of any third party; (c) any misrepresentation, breach of warranty, or breach of covenant by the Introducer under this Agreement; (d) any claim relating to the Introducer's website, marketing materials, or other media, including without limitation any content not provided or approved by Vantage; (e) any fraud, negligence, wilful misconduct, or regulatory breach by the Introducer which results in Losses or liabilities to the Indemnified Parties; or (f) any claims, judgments, settlements, expenses, damages, costs, or penalties (including those imposed by regulators) involving the Introducer's activities or its Clients' accounts, including but not limited to account deficits, losses, or expenses (including legal fees), arising from any alleged act, practice, conduct, or omission of the Introducer or its principals, shareholders, officers, directors, employees, agents, or representatives in relation to Clients introduced to Vantage, insofar as such Losses arise out of a breach of this Agreement.
- 8.4 Unless specifically provided in this Agreement, Vantage shall in no circumstances be liable to the Introducer for any consequential direct or indirect losses, loss of profits, loss of opportunity, costs, expenses, penalties or damages the Introducer may suffer in relation to this Agreement.

9. WRITTEN NOTICE

- 9.1 if published on Vantage websites or within the Introducer Portal, within one hour after it has been posted. Unless the contrary is specifically provided in this Agreement, any Written Notice under this Agreement:
- a) shall be in writing;
 - b) shall be in the English language;
 - c) shall be (i) delivered personally or sent by post (and air mail if overseas) or by email to the Party due to receive the Written Notice at its address set out in the Introducer Portal; or (ii) published on the Vantage's websites
- 9.2 The Introducer warrants that all contact information disclosed to Vantage in accordance with this Agreement is true, correct and accurate. Any attempt by the Company or its affiliate to contact the Introducer unsuccessfully due to incorrect communication information provided (e.g. postal address, email address or fax numbers) by the Introducer, may result in the immediate suspension and/or termination of the Agreement by Vantage.
- 9.3 Any Written Notice is deemed to have been served:
- a) if sent by air mail, six business days after posting it; or
 - b) if sent by email, when sent unless an automated notification of non-delivery is received; or
 - c) if published on the Vantage's website, within one hour after it has been posted.

10. AMENDMENT AND TERMINATION

- 10.1 The Introducer acknowledges that Vantage has the unilateral right to modify the terms of this Agreement, including any Addendum or Appendices by giving to the Introducer at least 3 Business Days Written Notice.
- 10.2 The Introducer may terminate this Agreement with immediate effect by giving Written Notice to Vantage. Upon termination, the Introducer shall have no further rights to receive Compensation or any other payments in respect of Prospective Clients or Traders introduced prior to termination. Furthermore, the Introducer agrees that it shall not, for a period of twelve (12) months following termination, directly or indirectly solicit, induce, or attempt to solicit or induce, any Prospective Client or Trader introduced to Vantage by the Introducer, to cease trading with Vantage, withdraw funds from Vantage, or otherwise terminate their relationship with Vantage, or to engage with the Introducer or any third party in relation to any competing trading products or services.
- 10.3 Vantage may terminate this Agreement, with or without cause, with immediate effect by giving a Written Notice to the Introducer.
- 10.4 Upon termination of the Agreement, the Introducer is obliged to return to Vantage any Promotional Material and the Introducer will, in accordance with the instruction of Vantage, withdraw, remove, or delete all such Promotional Material from any websites, blogs, social media profiles, marketing channels, and any other platforms or communications intended for public dissemination.
- 10.5 Termination of this Agreement will not affect any existing legal rights and obligations under this Agreement which have arisen prior to termination.
- 10.6 In the event of any ambiguity, inconsistency, or dispute regarding the interpretation or application of this Agreement, the Introducer acknowledges and agrees that Vantage shall have the sole discretion to interpret the relevant provisions. Vantage's interpretation and decision shall be final and binding.

11. PERSONAL DATA AND RECORDING OF TELEPHONE CALLS

- 11.1 Vantage may process, use, store or otherwise process personal information provided by the Introducer.
- 11.2 By entering into this Agreement, the Introducer expressly consents to the collection, use, processing, storage, disclosure, and transfer by Vantage, its affiliates, partners, service providers, and regulatory authorities of all personal data and other information provided by the Introducer, for the purposes of performing this Agreement, complying with applicable laws and regulations, fulfilling operational and administrative requirements, and for any other lawful purposes relating to Vantage's business activities.
- 11.3 The Introducer agrees that Vantage may pass information about the Introducer which the Introducer has provided to Vantage or its affiliates and/or to third parties in order to assist the Vantage and/or its affiliates to process and/or analyze the relevant information.
- 11.4 Such personal data may also be used for marketing purposes, or to conduct research for Vantage or other companies in its group that may use the personal data to bring to the attention of the Introducer products and services that may be of interest to the Introducer.
- 11.5 Telephone conversations and/or electronic communications between the Introducer and Vantage may be recorded and/or monitored and/or processed by Vantage. The Introducer, by entering into this Agreement, expressly consents to Vantage recording and/or processing these telephone conversations and/or electronic communications. All instructions received by telephone shall be binding as if received in writing. Any recordings shall be and remain the sole property of the Vantage and shall be accepted by the Introducer as conclusive evidence of the instructions or conversations so recorded. The Introducer agrees that Vantage may deliver copies of transcripts of such recordings to any court, regulatory or government authority.
- 11.6 The Introducer agrees and consents to Vantage accessing and processing client-related operational data through authorized API interfaces provided by or on behalf of the Introducer. Such data may include, but is not limited to, client trading account numbers, account types, platform usage, rebate and commission information, and transfer attribution records, as outlined in the integration documentation provided by Vantage. The Introducer acknowledges that this data is provided for operational efficiency, reporting, and internal tracking purposes. The Introducer is responsible for ensuring that API credentials provided to Vantage are securely maintained and used only for the intended purpose. Vantage shall not be liable for any delay, disruption, inaccuracy, or loss arising from the Introducer's failure to properly manage API access or secure transmission of data. The Introducer further agrees that any data shared through API is subject to change based on Vantage's internal policy updates, system enhancements, or regulatory requirements. In the event of any dispute arising from the interpretation, availability, or use of such data, Vantage shall have sole discretion to determine the appropriate resolution.
- 11.7 The Introducer acknowledges that the transmission of data to Vantage via API or any other electronic method may involve certain operational, technical, or cybersecurity risks, including but not limited to delays, transmission failures, unauthorized access, data corruption, malware, or other disruptions that may affect the accuracy, timeliness, or completeness of the information provided. The Introducer further agrees that any data provided to Vantage through API integration or similar channels is transmitted at the Introducer's own risk, and Vantage shall not be held responsible for any direct or indirect losses, damages, or liabilities arising from or related to such data or its processing. For the avoidance of doubt, Vantage shall not be liable for any damage, loss, or liability caused by or resulting from any malfunction, failure, breach, delay, or error attributable to the Introducer's systems, infrastructure, API configuration, internet connection, third-party software or services, or any external event or circumstance beyond Vantage's reasonable control.
- 11.8 The Introducer acknowledges and agrees that, unless expressly agreed otherwise in writing, Vantage does not owe the Introducer any fiduciary duty, duty of care, or confidentiality obligation in relation to any data, materials, or information submitted, transmitted, or made available by the Introducer to Vantage, including but not limited to data transmitted via API or any other integration method. The Introducer further consents to Vantage's use, analysis, storage, reproduction, adaptation, aggregation, and other processing of any such data for any lawful business purpose, including but not limited to internal analysis, research, reporting, regulatory compliance, operational efficiency, performance improvement, and commercial development. Vantage shall not be under any obligation to inform or compensate the Introducer for any such use.
- 11.9 The Introducer expressly acknowledges that any such data, once submitted to Vantage, may be stored, processed, or transmitted using Vantage's internal systems or external third-party infrastructure. The Introducer further accepts that, while Vantage will take reasonable steps to maintain the integrity and security of such data, Vantage shall not be responsible or liable for any loss, theft, unauthorized access, misuse, alteration, destruction, or exposure of such data, howsoever caused, including but not limited to risks arising from cyberattacks, data breaches, technical failures, or external threats. The Introducer understands that such risks are inherent to electronic systems and may arise from factors beyond Vantage's control.
- 11.10 The Introducer agrees to indemnify, defend, and hold harmless Vantage, its affiliates, officers, directors, employees, and agents from and against any and all claims, losses, liabilities, damages, costs, and expenses (including legal and professional fees) arising out of or in connection with:
- (a) any failure by the Introducer to maintain the security or integrity of API credentials or data transmissions;
 - (b) any breach of the obligations set out in this clause;
 - (c) any errors, inaccuracies, omissions, or unauthorized disclosures in the data submitted by or on behalf of the Introducer; or
 - (d) any third-party claim, regulatory inquiry, or investigation arising from the data integration, processing, or sharing conducted under this Agreement, to the extent such claim or inquiry relates to the Introducer's actions, systems, or omissions.

12. CONSENT TO DIRECT CONTACT

- 12.1 The Introducer expressly invites Vantage, for the purpose of administering the terms of this Agreement or otherwise marketing financial services and products, from time to time, to make direct contact with the Introducer by telephone, email or otherwise.
- 12.2 The Introducer consents to such communications and acknowledges that such communication would not be considered by the Introducer as being a breach of any of the Introducer's rights under any relevant data protection and/or privacy regulations.

13. CONFIDENTIALITY

- 13.1 All information, including but not limited to, any business, technical, financial, and customer information disclosed by Vantage to the Introducer during negotiation or the effective term of this Agreement, shall remain the sole property of Vantage. Without prejudice to the foregoing, all information shall be treated in confidential nature provided that such information is not already in the public domain (the "Confidential Information"). The Introducer agrees that it shall not, disclose any Confidential Information to any person or entity other than its employees, officers, representatives, or professional advisors who have a strict need to know such information for the purposes of performing this Agreement, and who are subject to confidentiality obligations no less protective than those set out herein. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Introducer may disclose Confidential Information if and to the extent required by applicable law, regulation, or order of a competent authority, provided that:
- (a) the Introducer gives Vantage prompt written notice of such requirement (to the extent legally permitted);
 - (b) allows Vantage a reasonable opportunity to review the requested disclosure and, at its own cost, seek to prevent or limit such disclosure; and
 - (c) discloses only the minimum amount of Confidential Information legally required to comply with the applicable law or order.

For the avoidance of doubt, Confidential Information does not include information which is or becomes publicly available through no breach of this Agreement by the Introducer.

14. PROPRIETARY PROPERTY

- 14.1 Vantage grants to the Introducer, for the duration of this Agreement, a nonexclusive, non-transferable, revocable right to access the Vantage site through the Link solely in accordance with the terms of this Agreement. This license shall be used solely in connection with the Link, and it shall extend exclusively to Promotional Material, for the sole purpose of introducing Traders and/or promoting and/or advertising Vantage Products and Services.
- 14.2 The Introducer shall not use any Vantage or Vantage Promotional Materials or proprietary materials or other intellectual property in any manner that is disparaging, misleading, obscene, or in any way detrimental to Vantage.
- 14.3 Vantage reserves all of its rights in the materials provided and all of its other proprietary rights.
- 14.4 Vantage shall be entitled to revoke this license to use the Link or the Promotional Materials at any time and at its sole discretion.
- 14.5 Any inappropriate use of the Link, text, banners, trademarks, trade names, service marks and other intellectual property or other advertisements not expressly approved of in writing or provided by Vantage may cause immediate termination of this Agreement.
- 14.6 In the event of termination of this Agreement for any reason, the Introducer shall promptly surrender, and deliver to Vantage any proprietary and/or Promotional Materials.
- 14.7 The Introducer agrees to indemnify, defend, and hold harmless Vantage and the Indemnified Parties at all times from and against any and all costs, claims, demands, damages, losses, liabilities, and expenses (including legal fees) incurred by, or imposed upon, the Indemnified Parties arising out of or in connection with any claim that:
- a) the Introducer's proprietary materials, content, or other intellectual property used in connection with this Agreement infringe the intellectual property rights or proprietary rights of any third party; or
 - b) otherwise relates to the provision of services or performance of obligations by the Introducer under this Agreement.
- 14.8 The Except as expressly permitted under this Agreement, the Introducer shall not, without the prior written consent of Vantage:
- (a) use the "Vantage" trademark, name, or any other intellectual property of Vantage and its affiliate (including any variations, misspellings, or terms confusingly similar thereto) (collectively, the "Licensed Materials") in any manner;
 - (b) use the Licensed Materials, or any IP address or domain name associated with Vantage and its affiliate, in connection with any domain name, website, bids for keywords, search engine advertising (including Google Ads or similar programs), metatags, keywords, search terms, source code, or other online advertising or promotional activities; or
 - (c) engage in any conduct, including online or search engine activities, that may cause or create confusion, mistake, or deception, including "initial interest confusion", regarding the affiliation, connection, or association of the Introducer with Vantage or its affiliates.
- 14.9 Any use of Vantage's intellectual property rights, including its trademarks, trade names, service marks, copyrights, or other proprietary rights, in any manner not expressly permitted under this Agreement shall constitute a breach of this Agreement and an unlawful infringement of Vantage's Intellectual Property rights. Such unauthorized use may subject the Introducer to legal claims, including claims for damages (which may include, without limitation, treble damages in cases of knowing or willful infringement), as well as liability for all legal fees, costs, and expenses incurred by Vantage in connection with any action to enforce their rights.

14.10 Without limiting the foregoing, the Introducer shall have no right to use the "Vantage" name, or any variation, misspelling, or confusingly similar term:

- (a) as part of any domain name, subdomain, or website URL;
- (b) as part of any username, nickname, handle, or profile name on any social media or networking site; or
- (c) in any other manner not expressly authorised by Vantage in writing, including for personal or non-commercial purposes.

Furthermore, the Introducer shall not use any of Vantage's registered trademarks, trade names, service marks, copyrights, licenses, or proprietary information in any way without prior written consent.

15. FORCE MAJEURE

15.1 Vantage shall not be liable for the non-performance or improper performance of their obligations under this Agreement, should Vantage be prevented from or is unable to do so due to a Force Majeure Event.

15.2 A Force Majeure Event is defined to include (but is not limited to) any Government actions, the outbreak of war or hostilities, the threat of war, military actions, rebellion, acts of terrorism, national emergency, riot, strike, civil disturbance/disorder, sabotage, requisition, or any other international calamity or political crisis; Act of God, earthquake, hurricane, typhoon, flood, fire, epidemic or other natural disaster; labour disputes not including disputes involving the Company's workforce; discontinuance or suspension of the operation of any market; failure of communication for any reason with Market makers, mal-functioning and/or non-operation of any computer transaction system due to defectiveness or failure of the mechanic equipment, fault or stoppage in communication lines, any other problems in connection, breakdown or unavailability of access to the internet or the trading platform(s); Any other extreme event beyond the control of the Company which may suddenly or drastically affect the prices in the underlying asset /market as well as any other event, act and/or circumstances that will have direct effect in the regulated markets and which, including, without limitation, any illegitimate actions against, not within Vantage's control, and the effect of that event(s) is such that Vantage are not in a position to take any action to prevent.

15.3 If Vantage determines in its opinion that a Force Majeure Event exists (without prejudice to any other rights under this Agreement) Vantage may without prior Written Notice and at any time take or omit to take all such actions as they deem to be appropriate in these circumstances.

16. DISPUTE RESOLUTION

The parties further agree that they will use the following procedure to identify and resolve disputes between them:

- a) either party may identify a dispute by sending a notice to the other party in accordance with this Agreement;
- b) following the receipt of a dispute notice by a party to this Agreement ("Dispute Date), the parties will consult in good faith in an attempt to resolve the dispute, including, without limitation, by exchanging any relevant information and by identifying and using any agreed process which can be applied to the subject of the dispute or, where no such agreed process exists or the parties agree that such agreed process would be unsuitable, determining and applying a resolution method for the dispute; and
- c) with respect to any dispute that is not resolved within 5 Business Days of the Dispute Date, refer issues internally to appropriate senior members of staff of such party or of its Introducer, adviser or agent in addition to actions under (b) immediately above (including actions under any Agreed Process identified and used under (b) immediately above) and to the extent such referral has not occurred as a result of action under (b) immediately above (including any agreed process).

17. MISCELLANEOUS

17.1 In the event that a situation arises which is not expressly covered by this Agreement, Vantage shall have the sole and absolute discretion to determine the appropriate course of action. In exercising such discretion, Vantage may, but is not obliged to, take into account principles of good faith, fairness, and prevailing market practice, having due regard to its commercial interests and regulatory obligations. The Introducer agrees that any such determination made by Vantage shall be final and binding.

17.2 No failure or delay by Vantage in exercising any right, power, or remedy under this Agreement or at law shall operate as a waiver of that or any other right, power, or remedy. No single or partial exercise of any right, power, or remedy shall preclude any further or other exercise of that or any other right, power, or remedy. Vantage may, at its absolute discretion, release, waive, compromise, or postpone any liability of the Introducer, in whole or in part. Any such waiver or release shall be effective only if made in writing and shall not be deemed a waiver of any other liability or breach, nor prevent Vantage from subsequently requiring strict compliance with the terms of this Agreement.

17.3 The rights and remedies provided to Vantage under this Agreement are cumulative and are not exclusive of any rights or remedies provided by law.

17.4 Nothing in this Agreement creates any partnership, joint venture, agency, franchise, sales representative, or employment relationship between the Introducer and Vantage.

17.5 The Introducer will not represent itself as an agent of Vantage and the Introducer will have no authority or power to bind Vantage or to contract in the name of or create a liability against any of these.

17.6 The Introducer agrees to inform Vantage about all facts and circumstances, he/she becomes aware of, that may result in undesired consequences (risks) for Vantage.

17.7 The Introducer agrees that Vantage can assign, novate or transfer the benefit and burden of this Agreement to a third party in whole or in part, provided that such third party agrees to abide by the terms of this Agreement. Such assignment, novation or transfer will come into effect 10 Business Days following the day the Introducer is deemed to have received Written Notice of the assignment, novation or transfer in accordance with this Agreement.

- 17.8 If any term of this Agreement (or any part of any term) shall be held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unenforceable for any reason then such term shall, to that extent, be deemed severable and not form part of this Agreement, but the enforceability of the remainder of this Agreement shall not be affected.
- 17.9 The Introducer may not assign, charge or otherwise transfer or purport to assign, charge or otherwise transfer the Introducer's rights or obligations under this Agreement without the prior written consent of Vantage and any purported assignment, charge or transfer in violation of this term shall be void.
- 17.10 The Introducer shall inform Vantage of any other business activities entered into by the Introducer during the term of this Agreement and shall provide Vantage with information, as requested, regarding such activity.
- 17.11 This Agreement and any Addendums and Appendices referred to in it, constitute the entire agreement between Parties and supersede all other agreements or arrangements, whether written or oral, express or implied, between Parties or either of them.
- 17.12 In the event of any controversy or dispute regarding the interpretation or implementation of this Agreement, Vantage shall have the sole and absolute discretion to determine the interpretation, and such determination shall be final and binding on the Introducer.
- 17.13 The Introducer agrees to inform Vantage about all the facts and circumstances, it becomes aware of, that may result in undesired consequences (risks) for Vantage.
- 17.14 Nothing in this Agreement creates a partnership or establishes a relationship of principal and agent or any other fiduciary relationship between the Parties.
- 17.15 This Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with the laws of Vanuatu.
- 17.16 With respect to any proceedings, the Introducer irrevocably:
- a) agrees that the courts of Vanuatu shall have exclusive jurisdiction to determine any proceedings,
 - b) waives any objection which the Introducer may have at any time to the bringing of any proceedings in any such court, and
 - c) agrees not to claim that such proceedings have been brought in an inconvenient forum or that such court does not have jurisdiction over the Introducer.
- 17.17 The headings and titles contained in this Agreement are included for convenience only and shall not limit or otherwise affect the terms of this Agreement.
- 17.18 Where this Agreement is issued in a language other than English, the English language version shall take precedence in the event of any conflict.
